Just answer this one important question – how are you going to become an Internet legend if you don't have some awesome equipment to match your grandeur? Maybe you have all you need to keep your Global Elite rank or patch together your clips, but do you have anything to make your voice sound simply epic?

Always under control

This is Krux Epic 1000, for everyone who aims high, be it a gamer, a streamer, or a creator. It's slim, it's elegant, but most importantly it's easy to handle without getting lost in cables and switches. The lower part of the casing is one big GAIN knob to let you control the input. The mic is also topped with a touch-activated mute switch to cut the signal off in a fraction of a second.

Speak and listen

The Krux Epic 1000 microphone has a minijack 3.5 mm audio output for a pair of headphones or earphones. Having a recording monitor is invaluable when each recorded word needs to be pronounced perfectly. It's also irreplaceable when you stream or record while gaming so that you can still hear all the audio feedback.

Epic lights

The mic itself is just top-notch. Plug it up and you'll be surprised by another chic thing about it – the RGB backlight hidden within it. An atmospheric halo of multicolored light will be the icing on the cake of your setup and serve both the streaming outlook and the mood of the evening browsing.

Comfortable and reliable

The supplied mounting arm is as cool as the Krux Epic 1000 itself. Just look at the slim build with smooth surfaces, all stylish and easy to use. The arm is topped with a shock mount that will make sure no scratches, bumps or rumbles will transfer from the desk's surface to the mic itself.

With a wrench handy

To ensure absolute stability, each part of the arm is locked in with an Allen bolt. But don't you worry, there's no need to go dig out the toolbox each time you need to make the smallest adjustment. The mic set includes a small magnet that you can attach to the arm itself or somewhere on your desk. You can use it to holster the included wrench and be your own mechanic whenever you need.
